8 confinement feeding operation.

9 b. The integrator enters into a production contract with 10 a contact producer for the maintenance of the animals at a 11 confinement feeding operation owned by the contract producer.
12 A production contract is entered into when it is signed or 13 orally agreed to by each party or by a person who is authorized 14 by a party to act on the party's behalf.

15 c. The confinement feeding operation where the animals are 16 maintained has an animal unit capacity of one thousand or more 17 animal units.

18 d. (1) The integrator exercises substantial operational 19 control over the confinement feeding operation where the

23 Sec. 6. Section 459.311, subsection 2, Code 2022, is amended

31 122 and 412, pursuant to rules that shall be adopted by the 32 commission. Any rules adopted pursuant to this subsection 33 shall be ~~no~~ more stringent than requirements under the federal 34 Water Pollution Control Act, 33 U.S.C. ch. 26, as amended, and 35 40 C.F.R. pts. 122 and 412.

1 the bill. The moratorium expires on July 1, 2027.

2 NPDES PERMITS. The bill amends a provision that requires
3 a confinement feeding operation to comply with applicable
4 national pollutant discharge elimination system (NPDES) permit
5 requirements under the federal Water Pollution Control Act,
6 by providing that any rules adopted by DNR are to be more
7 stringent than requirements under the Act.

8 CONFINEMENT FEEDING OPERATION INTEGRATION. The bill
9 provides for an arrangement involving a confinement feeding 10 operation integrator (integrator) and contract producer. An 11 integrator is a meat or poultry processor that owns animals
12 maintained by another person at a confinement feeding
13 operation. The contract producer is a person who owns a 14 confinement feeding operation where animals owned by another 15 person are maintained (amended Code section 459.102). An 16 integrator is deemed to be a joint owner of a confinement
17 feeding operation under certain conditions: (1) the integrator
18 owns animals that are maintained at the confinement feeding
19 operation, (2) the integrator enters into a production contract 20 with a contract producer for the maintenance of the animals at 21 a confinement feeding operation, (3) the confinement feeding
22 operation has an animal unit capacity of 1,000 or more animal
23 units, and (4) the integrator exercises substantial operational 24 control over the confinement feeding operation (amended Code
25 section 459.301). A construction permit application (amended
26 Code section 459.303) and a manure management plan (amended
27 Code section 459.313) required to be filed with the DNR
28 must include information regarding the ownership of animals
29 maintained at the confinement feeding operation.

30 BACKGROUND — ANIMAL UNIT CAPACITY. An animal unit capacity 31 refers to the maximum number of animal units that may be 32 maintained in all confinement feeding operation structures
33 associated with a confinement feeding operation at any one time
34 (Code sections 459.102 and 459.301). In calculating animal 35 unit capacity, each of various types of animals is assigned a

1 special equivalency factor which is multiplied by the number
2 of head of animals subject to confinement. For example, each 3 butcher or breeding swine weighing more than 55 pounds has an 4 equivalency factor of 0.4 animal units (Code section 459.102).

5 BACKGROUND — ENFORCEMENT AND APPLICABLE CIVIL PENALTIES.
6 Compliance with a statutory regulation under the Code chapter
7 includes compliance with a rule adopted by DNR (Code section 8 459.103). A person violating a water quality regulation is 9 subject to the administrative assessment of a civil penalty
10 or a judicially assessed civil penalty of up to $5,000 (Code 11 sections 455B.109, 455B.191, and 459.603).

12 EFFECTIVE DATE. The bill takes effect upon enactment.
